EM NORMANDIE BUSINESS SCHOOL OLD SCHOOL – YOUNG MIND

Founded in 1871, EM Normandie is one of the oldest French business schools with strong roots in its territory of origin, the emblematic region of Normandy. As it has evolved over the years, the school has grown beyond its Norman roots, opening campuses in Paris, Oxford, and more recently, in Dublin. In addition to a strong international orientation, reinforced by international accreditations, EM Normandie continues to cherish its origins by contributing to the region's reputation worldwide.

Located between the English Channel and the city of Paris, at the heart of the French and European economy, Normandy has many economic, cultural and geographical assets. The region is known for its breathtaking landscapes and historical background, making it a popular destination not only for tourists, but also for scholars and entrepreneurs. Normandy has earned an international reputation for its sights, including two UNESCO World Heritage sites (the Mont Saint-Michel and the city of Le Havre), the Etretat chalk cliffs, and the D-Day landing beaches.

Over the years, the school has excelled in reinventing itself through continuous improvement and innovation, adapting its programmes to an ever-evolving business world and to the challenges society and companies face. EM Normandie places its students at the heart of its mission to provide them with high-quality training, hands-on education, and solid career perspectives.

Furthermore, by enabling students to develop hard and soft skills during the course of their studies, the school strives to enhance their ability to push boundaries and find new solutions and new business models with an entrepreneurial attitude. Loyalty, courage and boldness are core values that are conveyed through innovative teaching methods, new technology and visionary courses. Internationalisation is an integral part of the 2021 strategic plan to welcome international students and staff on all the school's campuses. We look forward to welcoming you to EM Normandie!

A DIVERSE STUDY ENVIRONMENT

FROM NORMANDY TO PARIS, TO AN ENGLISH AND IRISH SETTING WITH A FRENCH TOUCH

Apart from being one of the world's most known regions for its rich history, Normandy is also one of France's most dynamic areas in a modern economical context. Le Havre boasts France's most important port for foreign trade and containers, with logistic and supply-chain hubs around the city. In recent years, the region has become a true hive for entrepreneurs who challenge traditional business models and enrich the local, national, and international economy. Paris, as the capital of France and one of the most famous cities in the world, offers opportunities in all business domains. With Oxford and Dublin, EM Normandie offers its students an Anglo-Saxon experience with courses fully taught in English in two different but equally inspiring settings: the traditional and long-standing educational excellence of Oxford, and the young and vibrant business hub of Dublin.

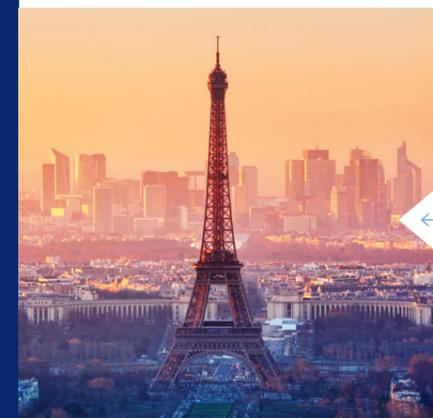

CAEN

Caen is a lively university town with a distinctive identity, located 30 minutes away from the famous Normandy beaches. Some of the many sites of interest of the area include the Mémorial Museum for World War II and History for Peace, the castle and abbeys built by William the Conqueror, etc.

LE HAVRE

Le Havre, a major port town in Europe, situated at the mouth of the river Seine, is listed as UNESCO World Heritage since 2005. It is a dynamic city which always strives for innovation.

PARIS

From the Louvre museum to Notre-Dame Abbey, the city of lights is full of famous monuments that rivals the castles, landscapes, forests and valleys surrounding the area. The Parisian campus is located in the 16th district, 20 minutes away from the Eiffel Tower on foot.

OXFORD (UK)

Oxford is purpose-built for students and education with 38 colleges throughout the city and home to one of the world's top 3 universities. Located in the city centre, the school's campus is close to all the main sights and shops.

DUBLIN (IRELAND)

Dublin is one of Europe's premier tourist destinations but also home to many international companies that have chosen to set up their headquarters there. Located in the city center of Dublin, the school's campus is close to the International Financial Services Centre (IFSC).

SUCCESS STORIES FROM SOME OF OUR ALUMNI:
Students and alumni who have built their own company:

Etienne, head of PayGreen, an eco-responsible on-line payment solution.

“ Grab opportunities and never be afraid to ask! You are lucky to have teachers there to talk to and people to support you when you need it. ”

Jessy, president of her own family ice cream parlour

“ Grab opportunities with both hands! That means making the most of your time as a student, and engaging with other students, lecturers, alumni, etc. If you live in the present moment and work towards your potential each day, you can build yourself a great future! ”

Marion, owner of a concept store in Rennes, specialised in products made in France

HIGHLIGHTS OF EM NORMANDIE'S STUDY PROGRAMMES

As an international business school, EM Normandie provides degree programmes at undergraduate and graduate level, delivered in French or English, focusing on current business needs and providing the necessary expertise and skills for an effective career start.

The school's Bachelor in International Management reaches #1 in France in the 2018 ranking by L'Etudiant Magazine. In this 3-year study programme, students spend an entire year studying with an exchange partner. During the last year, they can decide to either focus on logistics or international business.

For its flagship programme, the Master in Management Grande Ecole, students can choose between 17 different majors, 7 are fully taught in English and 10 are structured as a co-op track, allowing them to be trained on the job while studying.

Besides classic management topics, specific issues such as intercultural competencies and negotiation are tackled in the Cross-cultural Marketing and Negotiation major. Thanks to international classroom, students will learn while improving their profile across borders. An in-company consulting project will challenge their knowledge and their management skills, and the mandatory internship can be conducted abroad or in an international company in France.

The International Events Management major is tailored to students interested in communication and events, with a focus on organising and promoting events on different scales. Two field trips are part of the programme, one of them in Las Vegas, as well as 3 projects working on real-world scenarios throughout the study course.

Two majors, Supply Chain Management and International Logistics and Port Management, take advantage of the ideal location of the Le Havre campus to train students on strategic management and international trade, as well as operations management and transport and logistics. These majors provide hands-on learning as well as international and in-house expertise in the field.

“ Once when I was having doubts about my chosen path, I came across a quote that really struck me. It said that there will always be people who disagree with your choices in life, but that often their criticisms say more about them than they do about you. Only you can write your own story, so have confidence in your own instincts and be bold and determined. ”

Guillaume, Management Control Director, Christian Dior North America-LVMH Group

“ Life is short, so be the best possible version of yourself! Rise to the challenge of your professional and personal ambitions. Don't settle for just being good, aim for excellence and your life will be awesome ! ”
