Universidad San Jorge offers a welcoming and friendly atmosphere for incoming international students.

A whole international perspective is mandatory in a modern university. As a result of globalisation, we live in a world where knowledge and people increasingly move across borders. Therefore, the ability to take advantage of the opportunities offered by internationalisation becomes essential to shape the future of the university. Internationalisation is a transversal strategy that permeates all aspects of university life. It has to ensure that inter-cultural and global perspectives are integrated into all aspects of our activity, so that staff and students are well-prepared to operate in an international environment. It is also a key element in delivering high quality education and research.

At San Jorge University we share the ambition to become an international university in which global diversity is perceived as a valuable resource. We actively promote mobility for our students and staff, and welcome international students, either as a part of exchange programmes or as full-time students. Universidad San Jorge offers a welcoming and friendly atmosphere for incoming international students. The university offers every year an increasing numbers of credits taught in English giving foreign students the possibility to complete their degrees with a period spent at San Jorge. We also actively promote international partnerships and collaborations in education and research. We look forward to seeing you in Zaragoza!

Experiences

James McGowan, Mark Kyle, Paul McQuaid, Rebecca McRoberts, Fearghal Kelly

(GRADO EN DISEÑO DE VIDEOJUEGOS)
UNIVERSITY OF ULSTER

"Coming to Spain has been the most enriching and enjoyable experience of our lives so far, whether it has been meeting all the great people or seeing the sights of the beautiful country, we could not have had a better time!"

Jina Jeong

(GRADO EN ADE) KONKUK UNIVERSITY

"When I arrived at San Jorge, I was the only Asian girl among the Exchange students. My first day at San Jorge University was exciting but at the same time I was bit worried of how I will get along with the people. Fortunately, this concern did not last long because the exchange students were very open minded and the university had some programs that help students to meet each other. My other concern was that I do not speak good Spanish, so if I had problem outside the university it could be hard for me to solve it. However, even this was no issue, the student association were very happy to help me and this made me feel better being here. Now I feel this exchange student experience was time for me to step forward to the global society, which I have learned many things about such as languages, difference between cultures and how other people think when they have lived in different environments. I will never forget all the experiences, friends and people in Zaragoza!"

Daniel Beddard

CARDIFF METROPOLITAN UNIVERSITY
ERASMUS TRAINEESHIP, UNIVERSIDAD SAN JORGE, RELACIONES INTERNACIONALES

"My experience on my Erasmus+ Traineeship in Zaragoza at USJ has been incredible from start to finish. I worked in the department of International Relations with a hardworking and dedicated team who are some of the nicest people I have met and worked with. I have developed skills and qualities throughout my traineeship that will help me a lot in the future, in working and everyday situations. The support I had from my colleagues and various departments was fantastic and I could not have been happier. I have been able to develop and practice my Spanish in a working environment, which has enabled me to speak a second language at a good level.

Keerthy Sethupathy

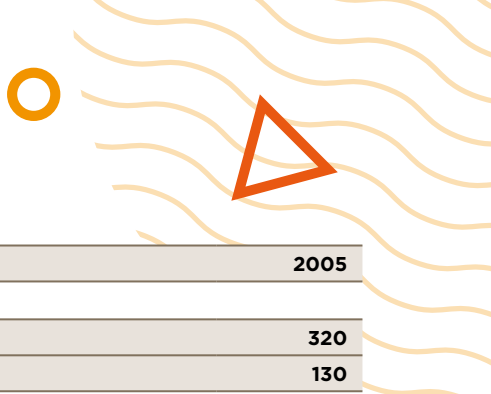

(INGENIERÍA INFORMÁTICA). LILLEBAELT ACADEMY

"My time in Spain, in the city of Zaragoza and at the University of San Jorge was really nice from start to finish. The experience I have from this will be something I will never forget and even able to use prospectively later in life.

The International coordinators are hardworking, open minded and extremely helpful. If you are in doubt of anything you can ask them, they give you a sense of reassurance, which is probably why they are the first people you meet when attending USJ. The Student Association are friendly and open to help if you need anything. They organise parties, trips and other arrangements."

Where we are

Zaragoza is a modern city with a population of around 700,000 and a rich historical and artistic heritage thanks to its 2000 years of history. Sometimes known as the 'City of the Four Cultures', it is located on the River Ebro, halfway between Madrid and Barcelona, 1½ hours from both on the AVE high-speed train. Zaragoza is a small, safe city with a good public transport system, good accommodation, plenty of student-life and is well connected for visiting other parts of Spain.

What to see: With a wide range of theatres, cinemas, exhibitions, concerts, festivals and fairs, every type of art movement and cultural alternative is available on the streets of the lively city and on the stages of the Auditorio, the Teatro Principal or the Palacio de Congresos. Zaragoza also has an important historical legacy: the ruins of the Roman city, the Moorish Aljaferia Palace, mudéjar-style churches, the baroque Pilar basilica or the works of locally born Francisco de Goya. The Pilar festival in October is famous all over Spain for its non-stop celebrations that go on for over a week.

Where to eat: One of the traditions of Zaragoza is going out for tapas in the old part of town, called 'El Tubo', full of both older and newer bars offering a wide range of local delicacies.

Where to stay: There are plenty of possibilities, both in Zaragoza and nearer to the University in the village of Villanueva de Gállego, in different apartments, university residences or hostals.
