

The camera can record all participants but is too far back for the microphone to pick up the voices of the presenters.

The microphone is well placed to pick up all the participants but the video camera cannot capture all the speakers.

The microphone is well placed to pick up all the participants and the video camera is set to wide-angle to capture all the speakers.

